Release Date: Immediate

Shann Jordan Carpenter has joined First National Bank of Crossett as Assistant Vice President and Controller according to an announcement from Edward L. Holt, President and CEO. Holt stated, "We are excited about Shann joining our bank family. Our community will benefit from her banking experience and skills." A Crossett native, Shann came to First National Bank from Maxwell and Associates where she was an accountant for the past five years. Gene Crawford, EVP and CFO stated, "Shann's experience with financial statements, public accounting, income tax and audit will be valuable in compliance with banking, accounting and income tax regulations."

After graduating from Crossett High School in 1998, she attended Arkansas State University in Jonesboro and the University of Arkansas at Monticello where she finished in Accounting in 2004. Mrs. Carpenter is a member of the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants (AICPA) and the Arkansas Society of Certified Public Accountants (ASCPA). Carpenter is currently serving as Treasurer for the Crossett Food Pantry and looks forward to getting more involved in the local community. She and her husband Shawn have two children, Eric, age 3, and Kyle, age 18 months.
